About AMLD Ambassadors

The AMLD Africa Ambassador Program is a continent-wide initiative that empowers AI practitioners, researchers, and community leaders from cities across Africa to bring machine learning knowledge directly to their local communities.

As an extension of AMLD Africa, the program aims to drive innovation, build technical capacity, and strengthen Africa's AI ecosystem from the ground up.

Each Ambassador is a dedicated local representative of AMLD Africa. They organize and lead workshops, mentorship sessions, and networking events, serving as on-the-ground catalysts who connect academic research, industry applications, and real-world impact. Their work ensures that AI knowledge reaches beyond major hubs and into diverse communities across the continent.
